Founders Day * April 4

Founders Day this year will be celebrated on a weekday, the first time in its four-year tradition. Also for the first time, several awards usually given throughout the year to honor community and campus members for outstanding service will be given in one large ceremony.

The special invitational awards luncheon will be held on Thursday, April 4, at noon in the combined lounges of Millberry Union. Several hundred campus friends and associates are expected to attend the presentation of:

- Chancellor's Award for Exceptional University Service, given annually to long-term employees who have consistently performed at a level beyond what is ordinarily expected:

Elizabeth J. Clary, office supervisor in Patient Accounts, who has been a UCSF employee for some 24 years;

Virginia Kearney, personnel assistant at LPPI and a staff member for 18 years;

Robert Moore, senior mail processor and 23-year employee;

James Roland, storesworker at Materiel Management's Central Receiving at Oyster Point and a UCSF staff member for some 18 years;

Ilse Sauerwald, staff research associate in the School of Dentistry's Department of Stomatology, who has worked at UCSF for some 20 years;

Maggie Scott, Nursing Services unit secretary on 11-Moffitt, with 37 years of UCSF service.

- The Chancellor's Award for Public Service recognizes UCSF members who have performed outstanding service to the campus and/or community beyond that required by the University position. This year, two of the awards will be presented posthumously:

Bobbi Campbell, a student in the School of Nursing until his death in August 1984, will be honored for his "extraordinary commitment to enhancing community awareness and understanding of AIDS and the need for AIDS-related research and health care."

Delmer J. Pascoe, MD, who died on January 1, was a clinical professor in the Department of Pediatrics. He is recognized for his "impact on and contributions to the welfare of underserved and abused children in San Francisco and abroad."

David J. Sanchez, Jr., MD, associate professor of family and community medicine, will receive the Thomas N. Burbridge Public Service Award, given in memory of the late UCSF associate professor of pharmacology to those whose public service reflects a commitment to social justice and equal education and employment opportunities.

- The Distinguished Nurse Award, presented by the departments of nursing, recognizes an outstanding contribution to nursing. Administrative nurse Elaine McKenna will be honored for conceptualizing, planning and successfully implementing last year's "Spend a Day with a Nurse Program," which was held during National Hospital Week.
- The Jeanne M. Yalon Memorial Award, established last year to be presented annually in memory of the distinguished oncology nurse, recognizes dedication and caring service to oncology patients. This year's winner is Cynthia Klock, head nurse on 11-Long, Cancer Research Institute.
- The Faculty Research Lecture, presented each year by the Academic Senate to honor a distinguished UCSF faculty member, will be given Thursday at 3 p.m. in Cole Hall. Lasker Award winner Harold E. Varmus, MD, who has played a decisive role in developing the Visiting scholars Barry Brenner, George Cahill, Isidore Edelman and James Wyngaarden will join several members of the UCSF faculty to pay tribute to Lloyd H. Smith, Jr., MD, at a two-day scientific symposium on Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13.

The symposium is part of a week-long celebration in honor of Smith, who is stepping down from the position of chair of the Department of Medicine as of July. He will move into the Dean's Office as associate dean of special projects and admissions.

The symposium program will include:
Fri., Apr. 12, 2 to 4 p.m., Cole Hall:

- "Lipoproteins & Atherosclerosis: A View from the Department of Medicine and the Cardiovascular Research Institute." CVRI director Richard J. Havel, MD;

NEWS BRIEFS

concept of oncogenes and its association with malignant cell transformation, will discuss "Tree-Shaking and Jelly-Making: Growing Up with Retroviruses."

• The UCSF Medal, the highest campus honor, which recognizes individuals from the community for contributions to health education, community health care and public service, will be presented in conjunction with the Founders Day Banquet on Thursday evening at the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

William K. Coblentz, nationally known attorney and outstanding citizen of San Francisco, who was chair of the UCSF Board of Overseers from 1980 to 1983;

Frank and Roxie Moradian, outstanding citizens of Fresno, proponents of UCSF's vital health care program in the San Joaquin Valley, and advocates of the UC Valley Medical Education Foundation;

Charles A. Noble, Jr., MD, UCSF clinical professor emeritus of medicine, who has been a member of the clinical faculty for over 50 years and chaired the clinical faculty of the Department of Medicine for 13 years;

Elizabeth Thompson Sooy, active in numerous civic organizations and a member of Achievement Rewards for College Scientists (ARCS), which through her support now recognizes young scholars at UCSF. (See newsbrief in this Today & Tomorrow for this year's ARCS winners.)

On Wednesday, April 3, the entire campus community will be thanked with a kick-off party in the Millberry gym from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Because of the importance of this event, Chancellor Krevans has declared a convocation during these hours. A student dance will follow at 8 p.m.

For further information on all Founders Day activities call 666-4723.

The first in a series of "Distinguished Immunologist Lectures" will be held on Wednesday, April 17, from 4 to 5 p.m. in HSW 300. Henry Metzger, MD, chief of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Branch of the National Institute of Arthritis, Diabetes, Digestive and Kidney Diseases, NIH, will discuss "Mast Cell Receptor for IgE: Structure and Signal Transduction."

Sponsored by the Division of Allergy and Immunology under the direction of Edward J. Goetzl, MD, the series will bring from around the country top specialists in allergy, immunology, rheumatology, dermatology and pulmonary disease. Each scientist will be on campus two to three days to present a basic science lecture and one or more clinical rounds.

Holly's Influence." Merle A. Sande, MD, vice chair, medicine, and chief, SFGH Medical Services:

• "The New Genetics and Medicine." Hughes investigator Y.W. Kan, MD, medicine:

• "Oncogenes: Update 1985." J. Michael Bishop, MD, director, Hooper Foundation;

• "Holly Smith and the Rise of Fort Miley." Marvin H. Sleisenger, MD, vice chair, medicine, and chief, VAMC Medical Services.

Sat., Apr. 13, 10 a.m. to noon, Cole Hall:

• "Entering the Practical Age of Biology." William J. Rutter, PhD, director, Hormone Research Laboratory;

• "Childhood Diabetes: Initial Lesion." George F. Cahill, Jr., MD, director of research at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute and professor of medicine at Harvard:

• "The Renal and Electrolite Division at UCSF Revisited: The L.H. Smith Era." Isidore S. Edelman, MD, professor and chair of biochemistry at Columbia, College of Physicians and Surgeons;

• "UCSF as a Parnassus of Research." James B. Wyngaarden, MD, director of the National Institutes of Health:

• "Why Kidneys Fail." Barry M. Brenner, director of the Renal Division at Brigham and Women's Hospital and professor of medicine at Harvard.

In addition, former UCSF faculty member Laurence E. Earley, MD, professor and chair, Department of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, will join Cahill on Wednesday morning, April 10, at 10:30 a.m. in Cole Hall to deliver medicine grand rounds. Cahill will discuss "Man's Dilemma: Obesity-Starvation," followed by Earley, "The Self-Perpetuating Nature of Chronic Renal Failure."

An invitational house staff banquet and other festivities will end the week.

The UCSF Children's Medical Center celebrated national "Children and Hospitals Week" in late March. Highlighting the event, which was sponsored by the Association for the Care of Children's Health, was an open house in the pediatric playroom for patients, parents and staff. It featured a guitarist and juggler, displays of artwork by the children and samples of the ward newspaper they produce, and resource information for parents on helping children adjust to hospitalization. Theme for the week was "Children are Our Future." Cosponsors of the UCSF celebration were Nursing and Hospital Administration, with events coordinated by Child Life Services and Pediatric Nursing.

Nobel Laureate Manfred Eigen, PhD, has been appointed the School of Pharmacy Regents' Lecturer. He will be on campus the week of April 8 to deliver three lectures:

• Tues., Apr. 9: "Self Organization of Biological Macromolecules." Cole Hall. 3 to 4 p.m.

• Wed., Apr. 10: "Experiments on Biogenesis." Cole Hall. 3 to 4 p.m.

• Fri., Apr. 12: "The Sequence Space of Nucleic Acids." Cole Hall. 11 a.m. to noon.

Director of the Max Planck Institute of Physical Chemistry in Gottingen, Germany, since 1964, Eigen received the Nobel Prize in Chemistry in 1967 for his work on rapid reaction kinetics. His major research interests focus on the mechanisms of biochemical reactions, biopolymerizations, and the role of molecular self-organization in the origin and evolution of life.

It is Thursday, April 18, 2 p.m. There has just been an explosion in a Health Sciences West laboratory. How will the campus respond?

The above is the scenario the campus will follow as part of our next Disaster Drill, held on the anniversary of the 1906 earthquake. The drill, to be implemented according to the Hospitals and Clinics and campus disaster plans, will include the evacuation and treatment of 50 "moulaged" patients found injured in the HSW lab.

UCSF will activate several areas to respond to this mock disaster including:

• Triage—all "victims" will be brought to the Emergency Department parking lot to be assessed by physician/nurse teams;

• Expectant Area—"patients" who are expected to die will be taken to the Occupational Therapy area;

• Immediate Care—"patients" who are suffering from heart attacks, arterial bleeding or breathing problems will be taken to the Emergency Department;

• Holding Area—"patients" in need of medical or surgical attention of a serious, but not immediate nature will be taken to the Physical Therapy Gym;

• Ambulatory Care Center—"patients" with minor injuries will be walked to the ACC.

• Langley Porter Psychiatric Institute—"patients" primarily requiring psychiatric assistance will be walked over to LPPI.

• Public Receiving Area—family members and others searching for "victims" will be directed to the Millberry Union combined lounges.

• Media Center—all press and media will be directed to 532 Parnassus. Identifications of those "wounded" or "dead" will be gathered and disseminated to the press and family members and friends in the Public Receiving Area.

• Personnel Pool—campus individuals and friends will meet in the Moffitt Cafeteria to volunteer their services in carrying litters, escorting victims, carrying messages, delivering supplies, etc.

• Physical Plant and Environmental Health and Safety—members of these departments will be at the "disaster scene" to determine the extent of damage and to simulate the necessary responses.

Also during the drill, UCSF's walkie-talkie emergency radio system will be

The controversy surrounding the discovery of insulin in 1921 by Nobel Laureate Frederick G. Banting will be discussed by Michael Bliss, PhD, professor of history, University of Toronto, at the 1985 Culpeper Lecture on Thursday, April 11, at 3:30 p.m. in Toland Hall. Bliss' topic will be "The Trials of a Nobel Laureate: Frederick Banting After the Discovery of Insulin."

Bliss is a distinguished historian of science who has authored two books on Banting, The Discovery of Insulin, and Banting: A Biography, which is the basis for his UCSF lecture. Bliss has studied the bitter rivalry between Banting and J.J.R. Macleod, with whom he shared the 1923 Nobel Prize.

While in the Bay Area, Bliss also will speak the previous evening at the Bay Area History of Medicine Club meeting on "Resurrection in Toronto: Facts and Myths in the Discovery of Insulin." Reservations are required.

The Culpeper Lectures are sponsored by the Department of History and Philosophy of Health Sciences and are made possible by an endowment granted to UCSF by the Culpeper Foundation of New York City. For further information on either lecture call the Department of History and Philosophy of Health Sciences at x2766.

A new clinic to serve the multiple needs of amputee patients has opened at SFGH. Under the direction of the Departments of Rehabilitation and Surgery, the clinic offers comprehensive care for amputees who are residents of the city and county of San Francisco. The staff includes specialists from rehabilitation, surgery, orthopaedics, physical therapy, nursing, social services and prosthetics.

Sheldon Berrol, MD, UCSF associate clinical professor of physical medicine and rehabilitation, and William Schecter, MD, UCSF assistant clinical professor of surgery, direct the clinical staff.

"The early management of amputee patients is important in the adjustment of a patient for the development of good habit patterns and a positive attitude," Berrol said. "If we can treat a patient soon after surgery, we can give early attention to getting the patient moving and active." Berrol and his colleagues believe that positive ambulation activity and encouragement from the clinic team can make the patient's transition and adaptation easier and more rapid.

The new Amputee Clinic is open on the first and third Wednesdays of every month from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Physical Therapy Department of SFGH, main hospital building, Room GC4. For further information call 821-8014.

A stress management seminar series to improve coping skills will be held on six consecutive Wednesday evenings beginning April 10. Sponsored by the Behaviorial Medicine Unit, Department of General Internal Medicine, the series costs $105, $60 of which covers the cost of the seminar series; the remainder covers an initial screening appointment. For further information call David Bezanson at x1445.

HONORS & AWARDS

Emil A. Tanagho, professor & chair, urology: Awarded the Jacob K. Javits award for research in the neurosciences in honor of the senator from New York. The Javits neuroscience investigator awards from NIH are for seven years of support.

Edward G. Biglieri, professor, medicine; chief, endocrinology service, laboratory medicine, SFGH: Named Doctor of Science, honoris causa, University of San Francisco.

Antony F. McDonagh, research chemist, medicine: Visiting Heritage Scholar at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Canada, Mar. 11-13.

Thomas C.L. Chin, first-year medical student: One of five winners of the Alpha Omega Alpha Student Research Fellowships.

Joseph C. Barbaccia, professor & head, geriatric teaching group, family & community medicine; vice chair, Health Services Research Unit: Appointed chair, California Medical Association Task Force on Health Care Issues of the Aging.

John Greenspan, professor & chair, oral biology; professor, pathology: Elected to publications committee, American Association for Dental Research, for a two-year term.

Peter Ng, director, Educational Media Resources: Reappointed to the board of directors of the Far West Laboratory for Educational Research & Development.

PUBLICATIONS

Michael M. Merzenich, professor, otolaryngology & physiology; director, Coleman Lab; Robert A. Schindler, professor, otolaryngology; executive director, Epstein Lab: Co-editors, Cochlear Implants (Raven Press, NY, 1985).

Merle Sande, professor & vice chair, medicine; chief, SFGH Medical Services: Co-editor, Bacterial Meningitis (Churchill Livingstone, NY, 1985). Volume 3 in the series Contemporary Issues in Infectious Diseases.

David G. Bullard, assistant clinical professor, medical psychology, psychiatry: Co-editor, Sexuality & Life-Threatening Illness (Charles C. Thomas, Springfield, Ill., 1984).

John C. Greene, dean, School of Dentistry: Elected president-elect, American Association for Dental Research at their meeting Mar. 21.

Newton C. Gordon, associate clinical professor, oral & maxillofacial surgery, School of Dentistry; chief, hospital dentistry, SFGH: Received an award for distinguished leadership & service by the California chapter of the National Dental Association at the Annual Scholarship Awards Banquet, Los Angeles, Feb. 9.

Alan S. Verkman, assistant professor, medicine: Received a certificate of achievement for being named a finalist in the Syntex Scholars Program. He qualified as a finalist for his proposed investigation of the mechanism and pathway for water and non-electrolyte transport in the kidney.

A. Eugene Washington, assistant professor, epidemiology & international health; policy scholar, Institute for Health Policy Studies: Appointed director of National Expert Committee Meeting on Chlamydia trachomatis infections sponsored by the Centers for Disease Control, Apr. 18-19. Other UCSF committee members include Julius Schachter, professor, epidemiology, laboratory medicine & international health; Mary-Ann Shafer, assistant professor, pediatrics; Richard Sweet, profesor & vice chair, ob/gyn.

APPOINTMENTS

Scott J. Tilden: Appointed assistant chancellor-development, effective May 6. He served as director of development at the University of Chicago Medical Center, 1980-1984, and most recently was with the consulting firm of Donald A. Campbell & Co. in Chicago. At UCSF Tilden and his staff will be responsible for coordinating and implementing all organized fund-raising activities directed toward the private sector.

Richard M. Schlobohm: Appointed acting chief, anesthesiology. He replaces H. Barrie Fairley, MB, BS, professor & chair, anesthesiology, who will become chair, anesthesiology at Stanford. Schlobohm has been director, Medical/Surgical ICU, SFGH since 1970; director, Respiratory Therapy since 1974; and clinical professor, anesthesiology since 1981.

Eleven young scientists at UCSF have been awarded Achievement Rewards for College Scientists (ARCS) totalling $51,000. The recipients are: Janice Guthrie and James N. Picado-Leonard (under Richard I. Weiner, Laboratory of Molecular Endocrinology); Nancy J. Levin (under Gerald M. Grodsky, Metabolic Research Unit); Marie K.P. Hoag (under Anthony J. Trevor, Department of Pharmacology); Linda R. DeYoung (under Kenneth A. Dill, Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry); Kathleen J. LaSala and David M. Hardman (under John P. Kane, CVRI); Errol P. Lobo (under Ira M. Goldstein, Rosalind Russell Medical Research Laboratory, SFGH); Kate E. Sullivan and Andrew F. Calman (under John D. Stobo, Rosalind Russell Medical Research Center for Arthritis); and Jonathan H. Blum (under Anthony L. DeFranco, biochemistry).
